SUPPLY CHAIN SOLUTIONS FOR PETROCHEMICAL
IN THE OIL & GAS
MARKET

 FOR US, IT'S PERSONAL

ACCELERATE YOUR PETROCHEMICAL BUSINESS

Operating within the petrochemical arena, you know that ramping up and down is no simple task. Production demand may outweigh upkeep and repairs – until now. Engage with professional partners that add value to your operational efficiencies and supply chain. We provide a global, holistic solution on a local level, so you can concentrate on your business and what you do best.

When status quo isn't an option, work with a responsive team that provides you with the right products and solutions at the right time so you can accelerate your business to outpace your competition.

Würth is far more than just a distribution source, we are a single-solution partner. From scheduled supplies to manufactured parts, in-house production of API-20E fasteners, cutting tools and inserts, safety equipment, and maintenance, repair and operations consumables, we provide locally customized solutions so you can concentrate on your business and what you do best.

INTEGRATED SUPPLY CHAIN SOLUTIONS

Würth Industry North America is globally and strategically aligned to fully support the Oil and Gas Industry. Our focus is on developing comprehensive, custom inventory management solutions tailored to your operational needs. You need your production line to keep moving, so that your business can keep growing. That means you need a supply chain solution that ensures you have the parts and industrial supplies on hand to maintain productivity.

We understand the complexity of supply chain management, and we know that the maintenance and coordination of your industrial supply can be overwhelming. High cost investments, lack of visibility and complex operations challenge today's oil and gas companies. An innovative approach to supply chain management can position your organization for success. We'll create an inventory management solution that is right for you – providing maximum efficiency, control and transparency – allowing you to focus on the business-critical tasks that have significant impact on your bottom line.
